

The teaching was not merely communication of knowledge; it provided rich insight into spiritual experience and understanding. It challenged as well as encouraged us for a victorious life and ministry. The relationship and mutual interaction between the teachers and students went beyond the classroom. Its impact reached our deepest soul...